

The Incredible Benjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin was born in Boston, in January, 1706. He was a very important politician, scientist and inventor. He was one of the founding fathers of the United States of America.

Benjamin Franklin married at 24, and had two children with this wife.

As a scientist, he invented the lightning rod, which is an object that makes houses safer in thunderstorms. He also invented the chimney, and bifocal glasses, among others. His brother, John, was also an inventor.

As a politician, he was in the General Assembly of Philadelphia in 1736. He was a big influencer in the Declaration of Independence in 1776, helping Thomas Jefferson write it. In 1778 he was a Minister in France. He also stopped slavery in the United States of America.

Franklin believed firmly in sincerity, justice, moderation and humility, to which he had some very famous quotes like: "There never was a good war or a bad peace" and, "Never leave until tomorrow which you can do today". Franklin died in Philadelphia in April, 1790, at the age of 84.
