Prefixes un, in, dis and trans

TIP: A prefix is a word part that is added at the beginning of a base word or a root to make a new word. The prefix trans means across or over, as in transplant. The prefixes un and dis mean not, as in unselfish and disgrace. The prefix dis can also mean away or opposite of, as in distance or discovered. The prefix in can mean into or not, as in inexpensive. It can also mean to cause to become, as in increase.
