

Write a short paragraph about advantages of being a working mother.

- contribute to household income (pay household expenses, satisfy their children's growing needs)
 - be a good educator for their children(discover their strengths and weaknesses, become more knowledgeable ,and find good ways to educate their children through working)
 - set good examples for their children(work hard, have responsibilities and love that are likely to pass down from generation to generation)