

Stomach and Intestines

Direction: Fill in the blanks with the right words in the box. Drag the words to the blanks.

Digestion starts in the _____. The food is changes into _____ form. The _____ softens the food.

The partially digested food enters the _____. it then goes to the _____. The food is further changed into _____ form in the _____ so that the _____ can carry it to the different parts of the body. Undigested parts of the food pushed into the _____, where they remain until the feces are expelled by a _____.

saliva

esophagus

large intestine

liquid

soluble

mouth

blood

small intestine

stomach

bowel movement