

Grammar: Purpose, reason & result

- Match the sentence endings with their beginnings (1-12)

I forget it.

the poor acoustics in the hall.

make a good first impression.

she ends up forgetting them.

the people at the back won't hear you.

the bad weather conditions.

eventually working as an interpreter.

their responses take the interviewer by surprise.

see whether the candidate has the skills and attitude they're looking for.

he won't be taking part in the match tonight.

make sure we knew things like putting a double 'p' in 'approve'.

I immersed myself in the life of the local community.

1. I thought I should pick the language up while I was there, so

2. It might be better to set up a simulation of the job in question so as to

3. They used to give us dictations in class to

4. Paula is studying languages at university with the intention of

5. I always write new vocabulary down in my notebook in case

6. We found the lecturer difficult to hear due to

7. You'll need to use a microphone, otherwise

8. The candidate often lacks the sort of cultural background that would stand them in good stead in these situations, with the result that

9. He always dresses smartly in order to

10. All flights have been cancelled owing to

11. Candice always writes things down, or else

12. Stephen injured himself at practice yesterday, therefore

Adapted from Complete Advanced Un.2