

Ricketts Hall

The building contains the offices of the Naval Academy Athletic Association, a university athletic training complex and football locker room. Tickets for Navy athletic and cultural events are sold here.

It's a place where you (or midshipmen) can _____.

- A get advice how to enter the academy
- B learn about the naval history
- C have inexpensive lodging
- D meet for special occasions
- E honor those killed in action
- F see the grave of a famous person
- G read about World War II

GET A LIFE, DOC, IF YOU DARE

There's an e-mail making the rounds with a job description attached. If you apply, be warned: you will be burdened with "challenging" tasks with "variable hours, which will include evenings and weekends and frequent 24-hour shifts on call." That's why lately (17) _____. They are often too busy wiping the noses and taking the temperatures of other people's kids to do likewise for their own.

Training to be a paediatrician isn't much fun. Granted, things could be worse: residents are called residents because until 1950s (18) _____. Their lives now are closer to normal, but a big problem remains: the residency begins around age 26, over-lapping exactly with the prime years (19) _____.

Solution is a part-time paediatrics residency. Take Susan Clinton Martin, who realized during her first year at Children's that her new job left her no time (20) _____. Instead of quitting, she went part-time. Now in her final year, she tells the directors she is "their happiest resident."

Stories of overworked, sleep-deprived doctors unwittingly making mistakes are legion. Part-time residents (21) _____. They may avoid another pitfall: depression, which afflicted 20 percent of paediatrics residents in a recent study – and which can increase the chance of medical errors sixfold.

Given the data – and the fact that 17 percent of paediatricians eventually take on part-time practices – paediatrics residents ought to be clamouring for reduced schedules. Yet part-time residency remains an extreme rarity. Of 10,000 "peds" residents in the United States a mere ten are part-time. Too many doctors seem to think there's something noble in working themselves to bone. (22) _____, there's nothing noble about it.

- A for bearing and raising children
- F certainly get more chances to rest
- C I've been feeling sorry for paediatrics residents
- B require a lot of the same skill
- D they lived at the hospital
- E to be well-trained
- H to raise two kids under age 4
- G when it hurts small people in their care

HOW MUCH EXERCISE DO WE REALLY NEED?

Ellen and David are committed to their workouts at the health club. They both go every day after work and (23) _____ at least one hour doing exercise. Both are in (24) _____ and feel fit. They believe in the motto "No pain, no gain."

Andy and Pam are sitting in front of the television and watching yet another commercial for the local gym. Neither one is an athlete, nor do they really (25) _____ to learn a sport now.

Are you more like Ellen and David or Andy and Pam? Or do you fall somewhere in between? We all know that exercise is important in (26) _____ the body healthy and (27) _____ the risks of disease. But for many people, the word exercise means hours of boring, strenuous activity. Recently, however, scientific studies have found that health benefits can be (28) _____ with non-strenuous exercise. This is very (29) _____ news for all those people who thought they had to be athletes or work as hard as athletes to (30) _____ exercise worth it. The new (31) _____ say that every adult should do at least 30 minutes of moderate activity most days of the week. There are many ways to achieve this without buying expensive (32) _____ or joining a health club.

Read the text below. Choose from (A—H) the one which best fits each space (17—22). There are two choices you do not need to use. Write your answers on the separate answer sheet.

New York City is the birthplace of Broadway, which began in the early 1900s and soon became the cultural center of New York. The theatre district fascinated large groups of middle-class people in search of music, excitement, and romance. The best seats in the house cost only $2.00. The relationship between audience and actors was lively and high-spirited. Audiences became caught up in the plays, (17) _____.

Broadway reached its prime during the 1920s. Lawrence Langner, organizer of the Theatre Guild, helped Broadway become a performing arts center (18) _____.

After the stock-market crash of 1929 and the Great Depression, Broadway plunged. The number of productions declined and (19) _____. Ironically, this became a creative period. Many of Broadway theatres now included dramas of social protest, (20) _____.

Broadway began to compare with television and movies during the 1940s. Most theatres on Broadway were turned into film houses. By this time, television was becoming a competitor. Television was providing the public with free entertainment.

Modern day Broadway is alive and well and Broadway theatre is considered the most prestigious form of professional theatre in the United States, (21) _____. Some ticket booths sell same-day tickets for many Broadway shows at half price. This service helps sell seats that would otherwise go empty, and (22) _____. Personal space can be imagined as a kind of bubble surrounding a person that (23) _____ his or her privacy and which other people may not normally enter. People from cultures that like a lot of personal space (24) _____ awkward when somebody comes too close to them; people who need less personal space are often offended when others seem to want to keep them at a (an) (25) _____.

The amount of personal space people need also (26) _____ several other factors. People of the same sex may stand closer to each other than to somebody of the opposite sex. Strangers try to (27) _____ each other's space. Some British people avoid sitting next to strangers on buses and if there are lots of (28) _____ seats they choose one by itself.

For a private conversation Americans need at least 30 centimetres between each other, and British people more. (29) _____ somebody to enter your personal space may be a sign of trust or love.

British people tend to avoid touching or being (30) _____ close to people outside their own family. Women often greet members of their family with a kiss on one cheek, and may also greet friends in this way. Men are often (31) _____ about "kissing female members of the family or children in public, and never kiss men. #### IS IT TRUE THAT A DINOSAUR LARGER THAN TYRANNOSAURUS REX WAS RECENTLY FOUND?

In 1995 scientists in Argentina discovered a meat-eating dinosaur they named Giganotosaurus. They claimed that it was as big as or bigger than the North American Tyrannosaurus. However, their claim is still being disputed. Although Giganotosaurus had a larger skull, it had a smaller brain, making it less intelligent. It has a longer upper leg bone but a shorter lower leg bone, so both (17)_____.

However, the non-meat-eating dinosaurs were considerably larger. In fact, of all the known dinosaurs, which one is the biggest depends on how (18)_____.

A dinosaur named Argentinosaurus was recently discovered in Argentina (hence the name). It was as tall as a seven-story building and weighed 110 tons.

In 1994 (19)_____ found the bones of another huge dinosaur. They named it Sauroposeidon, which means “earthquake god lizard.”

One standard measurement used to define a dinosaur’s size is length, which is measured from the tip of its nose to the tip of its tail. Because Sauroposeidon was 30 feet longer than Argentinosaurus, some scientists claim it is (20)_____.

We have anything against the state of Oklahoma, but (21)_____ on record goes to the monster from Argentina.

That’s not the end of the story. A fossil hunter in Colorado unearthed one of the largest dinosaur legs ever discovered. Based on the leg, he estimated that the dinosaur was probably 98 feet long and weighed 130 tons. Unfortunately, that’s only a guess until (22)_____.

SUPERSTITIONS

Superstitions are beliefs that certain things or events will bring good or bad luck. Many people (23)_____ that luck plays an important part in their lives. People (24)_____ superstitions while they are children. Most superstitions are centuries old.

People are also interested in fate and in knowing what will happen to them in the future. Most people know which (25) _____ of the zodiac they were born under, and read their horoscope in magazines, though only a few take what is said (26) _____. When things go wrong they may say 'Just my luck!', (27) _____ their own bad luck.

There are many well-known signs of bad luck, some of which have a religious (28) _____. The number 13 is considered unlucky because there were 13 people at the Last Supper. Many people believe they will have a bad day when the 13th day of the month (29) _____ on Friday the 13th.

A well-known cause of bad luck is to walk under a ladder leaning against a wall. This idea may have (30) _____ out of the practice in medieval times of hanging criminals from ladders. A person who (31) _____ a mirror will have seven years' bad luck, but an old, little-known solution is to put the pieces under running water in order to wash away the bad luck. Some people think it is bad luck to (32) _____ a black cat cross in front of them; others think black cats bring good luck, and they give paper black cats as tokens at weddings.
