William Shakespeare was born in Stratford-upon-Avon, England in April 1564. He spent his childhood there, but later moved to London. He worked as an actor, and he also wrote plays for his friends to perform. His plays were very popular. Actors performed them at royal courts and famous theatres. People still love Shakespeare's plays. Many films are inspired by his work, such as 10 Things I Hate About You, The Lion King and She's The Man.

Jane Austen was born on 16th December 1775, in Hampshire, England. She had seven brothers and sisters, and her family was very close. Many people believe that parts of her novels were autobiographical, because she wrote about families and society at that time. She published her first novel, Sense and Sensibility, in 1811. Two years later, she published her second novel, Pride and Prejudice. Pride and Prejudice is one of the most famous novels in the world, and many films and books are based on the story.

Joanne (J.K.) Rowling was born in Gloucestershire, England, on 31st July 1965. She always loved reading and when she was young she often wrote stories to tell to her little sister. In 1990, J.K. Rowling was on a train when she had the idea for her most famous character: an orphan who becomes a wizard. She started writing the first Harry Potter story as soon as she got home. The Harry Potter books and films were a huge success. J.K. Rowling is the first person to become a billionaire by writing books.
