INCREDIBLE TEENAGERS

People are always saying that teenagers are lazy. But here are two teenagers that are currently proving them wrong.

Laura Decker is an amazing young woman. Why? In 2012, she fulfilled her dream of sailing around the world alone. She was 14 when she left and her amazing journey took almost two years.

This route around the world covers over 40,000 km and so a trip like this needs a lot of courage, as well as knowledge. She faced many difficulties: six-metre high waves, the possibility of pirates, flying fish, whales, and being alone for weeks while on a very basic diet. In fact, many people, including the Dutch authorities, said that Laura's trip was too dangerous for someone so young; they believed that she should be stopped.

Laura now lives in New Zealand and she makes deliveries on her boat to earn money. Following her adventure, she sometimes gives talks to people about her experiences and she often travels. But she only occasionally leaves her boat, Guppy. She has also written an autobiography and at the moment she is doing several book tours. Laura seemed quite a shy person before her adventure, but it looks as if she is gradually becoming more confident. Her ambition is to become a captain on a big ship, so that she can always live on water.

People don't usually think of teenage boys as very hard-working and determined. But Jordan Romero is not a typical teenage boy. When he was 13, he climbed Mount Everest, the highest mountain in the world. Not only that, but he also climbed the tallest peaks on seven continents before he was 16. He is still the youngest person ever to do so and he holds the world record.

Like Laura, he encountered difficulties with the authorities before he left, with some experts questioning if he was mentally mature enough to make the climb. But he has shown that he is not only mature, but also incredibly reliable and dedicated.

He is now raising money to build a primary school in Malawi and he often travels around the US to tell his story and to encourage children to do more outdoor activities. He published his second book in 2014 and is also travelling around the world doing signings. As if that isn't enough, he often posts advice and help for other climbers on his website, and it looks like there is much more to come from this inspirational teen.

I've got a lovely dog called Mutt. He is looking sweet, but when a stranger comes to the door, he often barks and is sounding really unfriendly. After a long walk in the rain, he doesn't smell very nice! His long ears feel soft and his nose is usually wet. When he is hearing my parents' car, he runs to the window. He's always seeming to know when they are coming.
