

which who which whose which where

- 1 driv·er's li·cense /'draɪvərz ˌlaɪns/ noun a card shows you can drive
- 2 qual·i·fi·ca·tion /ˌkwɒləfə'keɪʃn/ noun something you get when you pass an exam or complete a training course
- 3 mov·ie di·rec·tor /'muvi də'rektər; daɪ-/ noun a person job involves supervising people when making movies
- 4 col·lege /'kɒlɪdʒ/ noun a place you can study for a degree
- 5 ap·pren·tice·ship /ə'prɛntəʃ,ʃɪp/; /ə'prɛntə,ʃɪp/ noun a period of time you spend working in order to learn how to do a job
- 6 pres·i·dent /prɛzədənt/ noun the person is leader of the government (in some countries)

Which of the above relative pronouns could be replaced with that?

7 Check (✓) the sentences in which you can omit the relative pronoun.

- 1 ☐ I love the laptops that they sell in that store.
- 2 ☐ She's wearing the dress that she bought on Saturday.
- 3 ☐ He was the man that invented the Internet.
- 4 ☐ That's the woman who I met yesterday.
- 5 ☐ She's the girl who always runs to school.