One Direction, Many Charities

One Direction are a very popular boy band around the world. They travel to different countries and play concerts in huge stadiums. They make millions of fans happy. But when they aren't at work, these five boys have a normal daily life.

The boys love waking up at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and they often have breakfast. After, they go to the gym or play football together. In the evening, they love watching films and playing video games.

But a very important thing that the boys do with their free time is charity work. One Direction help a lot of different charities. Louis plays football for Doncaster Rovers and gives the money from ticket sales to a local children's charity. Liam and Harry work together and volunteer for Cancer Research. Zayn often gives a helping hand to children's hospital charities and Niall organises events for children's charities in his hometown. The whole band work together to help big charities like Comic Relief and Children in Need. These boys really know how to make a difference.

- 1 There are 3 boys in the band.
- 2 The boys like getting up late.
- 3 They don't like watching films.
- 4 Liam plays football for Doncaster Rovers.
- 5 Niall often organises charity events to help children in need.
- 6 The band never do charity work together.
