Language Agreement

Affirmative	Negative
SO ... SUBJECT SUBJECT ... TOO/AS WELL	NEITHER ... SUBJECT SUBJECT ... NOT EITHER

...
BE (am, is, are, was, were)
MODALS (can, will, may, should, etc)
AUXILIARIES (do, does, did, have, etc)

Choose the correct option from the dropdown menu to complete the sentences.

1. Alan is an accountant and Sarah.
2. Paul used to work at PepsiCo and Rob.
3. The directors have no extra benefits and the CEO.
4. The staff can eat at the cafeteria and the suppliers .
5. The HR has moved to the new building. the production and marketing.
6. The coordinator will not participate in the meeting. The director .
7. The CFO was away yesterday. The CMO .
8. The receptionist never arrives on time and the assistant.
9. The accountant should write her report. The maintenance manager .
10. Sarah has gone on a business trip. her boss.
11. Leo rarely travels on business. his partners.
12. The patient didn't turn up for the appointment and the doctor.
13. Mark couldn't fix the computer fault and the IT technician.
14. The passenger was 10 minutes late. Luckily, the flight .
15. Derik has been working from home. his colleagues from Paris.
16. Debbie doesn't work on Saturdays and Sue and Laura.