

READ THE TEXT. CHOOSE THE RIGHT WORDS AND WRITE THEM ON THE LINES.

| | | | |
|---------|-----------|----------|-----------|
| Example | rise | rises | rising |
| 1 | turn | turns | turned |
| 2 | bright | brighter | brightest |
| 3 | sometimes | often | always |
| 4 | Since | During | Yet |
| 5 | far | farther | farthest |
| 6 | so | for | to |
| 7 | other | others | another |
| 8 | any | all | none |
| 9 | hide | hides | hidden |
| 10 | Those | This | These |

DAY AND NIGHT

The Sun doesn't really ...rise... at all. It's the Earth that 1. to give you a sunrise each morning. The Earth is like a spinning ball. Wherever you are, it starts to get light as your part of the Earth spins around to face the Sun. The sky grows 2. [] and it's morning. The weather may be gray and gloomy, but above the clouds, the Sun is 3. [] shining.

The Earth spins day and night. 4. [] the day, the Earth's movement makes the Sun seem to travel across the sky. The hours pass, and your part of the Earth turns 5. [] away from the Sun. The Sun "sinks" in the sky, and the darkness comes. It's night. It takes 24 hours 6. [] the Earth to spin around once. While one half has daylight, the 7. [] half has night.

During the winter months, the lands around the poles don't see the Sun at 8. []. The Sun is so low in the sky that it is 9. [] below the horizon. 10. [] makes it night all day long in this place. In the summer, everything changes at the poles. The Sun is in the sky morning, noon, and night.

2. LOOK AT THE PICTURE AND READ THE STORY. WRITE SOME WORDS TO COMPLETE THE SENTENCES ABOUT THE STORY. YOU CAN USE 1, 2, OR 3 WORDS.

Last year, Julia joined a competition in a bookshop. She had to guess the number of pages in one of the books. The book was very long. She thought that the book has about two hundred pages. Her lucky number was thirty-two, so she decided that the answer was two hundred and thirty-two pages. A few days later, Julia got an email from the bookshop. It said, 'Well done! You have guessed the correct number of pages in our competition. Would you like to come to the bookshop to get a present?' Julia felt very happy. She couldn't believe that she won the competition. She replied to the email that she would come the next day to get her present.

The next day she went to the bookshop again. There were a lot of people there because a famous writer was visiting the shop. Julia read a lot of books written by this writer and liked them very much. The writer gave a book to Julia and said, 'This is the present for you. It's a book about the English countryside that I have just written.' Julia thanked him and said, 'It looks very interesting and the photos are beautiful. Please could you write your name here for me? I want to show all my friends and my family.' 'Of course,' the writer said. Julia was very excited when she received the book from the writer.

JULIA WON A COMPETITION

Examples:

1. Julia joined acompetition... that she had to guess the number of pages in one of the books.
2. She guessed that the book had two ...hundred... and thirty-two pages.

Questions:

1. A few days later, Julia received an from the bookshop.
2. She was very because she won the competition.
3. She emailed the bookshop that she would come the next day to get her
4. When she got to the bookshop the next day, it was crowded because a was visiting the shop.

5. Her present was a book about the

6. Julia asked the writer to write his on the book so that she could show it to her friends and family.

7. When Julia received the book from the writer, she was very .