

All, Half, Most and None (Quantifiers) Exercise

All	100%	All cats love expensive food
Most	Nearly 100%	Most politicians are corrupt
Half	50%	Half of my friends are vegetarians
None	0%	None of my friends are racist.

A Fill the gaps with all, half, most or none.

- Nearly ..... politicians are corrupt. It's a shame and a disgrace.
- ..... people agree that we have to protect the environment from men's senseless greed and destructive habits.
- ..... of my friends came to my birthday party. Absolutely everyone was there.
- ..... the class thought the exam was easy and the rest thought it was either difficult or very difficult.
- ..... of us wanted to go down the pub so we all decided to go to Pete's place and watch The Fellowship of The Ring on DVD.
- ..... living things have the right to live, even sharks, spiders and cacti.
- All the countries agreed that CO2 emissions were causing global warming but about ..... of them signed the treaty.
- ..... of the adults I know have mobile phones but not all.
- ..... my friends have cars except Juli and me.
- ..... of today's world leaders are taking environmental concerns seriously.
- I'm sure that if we all made an effort, we could enjoy ..... of life's luxuries without destroying the planet in the process.
- I've got five pens on my desk and ..... of them work. Unbelievable!
- If you are truly determined, then ..... your dreams will come true.
- Minnie Cat spends ..... of her time asleep.

B Now write some examples of your own.

- .....
- .....
- .....
- .....

