(a) He drank water because he was thirsty.

Because expresses a cause; it gives a reason. Why did he drink water? Reason: He was thirsty.

Because diễn tả nguyên nhân, và đưa ra lí do. Why did he drink water? Lí do: He was thirsty.

He drank water = a complete sentence

(c) ADVERB CLAUSE (mệnh đề trạng ngữ)
because he was thirsty

An adverb clause is NOT a complete sentence:

because he was thirsty = NOT a complete sentence

Because introduces an adverb clause:
because + subject + verb = an adverb clause

Mệnh đề trạng ngữ không phải là một câu hoàn chỉnh

because he was thirsty = không phải là một câu hoàn chỉnh

Because giới thiệu một mệnh đề trạng ngữ
because + chủ ngữ + động từ = mệnh đề trạng ngữ

MAIN CLAUSE

ADVERB CLAUSE

(d) $\overbrace{\text{He drank water}}^{\text{MAIN CLAUSE}} \overbrace{\text{because he was thirsty.}}^{\text{ADVERB CLAUSE}}$
(no comma)

An adverb clause is connected to a main clause, as in (d) and (e).

(f) INCORRECT IN WRITING (Sai trong văn viết): He drank water. Because he was thirsty.	Example (f) is incorrect in written English: Because he was thirsty cannot stand alone as a sentence that starts with a capital letter and ends with a period. It has to be connected to a main clause, as in (d) and (e). Ví dụ (f) không đúng trong văn viết tiếng Anh: Because he was thirsty không thể đứng một mình như một câu bắt đầu bằng chữ cái viết hoa và kết thúc bằng dấu chấm. Nó phải được liên kết với mệnh đề chính, như trong (d) và (e).
(g) CORRECT IN SPEAKING (Đúng trong văn nói): -Why did he drink some water? - Because he was thirsty.	In spoken English, an adverb clause can be used as the short answer to a question, as in (g).
