Read the letter from Duong to Jenny, and answer the questions that follow by chosing A,B,C or D.

Dear Jenny,

It's great to learn that you have been granted a scholarship to study at Queens' College, a prestigious part of Cambridge University, and that you will be able to pursue your dream of becoming a biologist. Congrats!

I have been accepted to the maths class at Ha Noi High School - one of the best schools in Ha Noi. I love maths and I hope to become a mathematician one day. I know the route ahead is not smooth because I will have to take courses in maths, physics, and even in computing. My dad said I need not only a bachelor's degree, but ideally a doctoral one if I want to get a good job. I would love to work at the Institute of Mathematics like my dad because, due to his work at the institute, he has also been invited to teach in several universities in France. Alternatively, I can choose applied mathematics and work in finance for an international company. Moreover, my mother said I also need soft skills like teamwork skills, interpersonal skills, and communication skills to do either of those jobs. Luckily, my new school provides many extracurricular classes which I can take part in to relax and to pick up those skills.

Anyway, there is plenty of time for me to make detailed plans. I've decided to take a break for a while.

Wish you were here to go with me to Da Nang.

Secondly, space exploration brings together a lot of smart people from many different fields to work on the same problem. This has resulted in not only fantastic scientific discoveries but also many useful inventions. Thirdly, as our Earth is becoming overpopulated, we might be able to colonise other planets such as Mars and make their atmosphere suitable for human life. In conclusion, people are continuing exploring space because of its advantages.
