Hook

Another reason to use public transportation is to reduce pollution. Subways, trains and buses produce far less pollution per person than privately owned automobiles.

Thesis

Enjoy getting to where you need to go with public transportation.

First Point and
Supporting Sentence

However, there are many reasons to use public transportation.

Second Point and
Supporting Sentence

One reason to use public transportation is to save money. Public transportation costs a lot less than buying a car and paying for parking, gas, and repairs.

Third Point and
Supporting Sentence

Sometimes a bus smells like pee.

Concluding Sentence

A third reason to use public transportation is that it is safer. Subway accidents occur far less frequently than car accidents and bus drivers are much more experienced than regular people.
