

The -ing form	Write examples of each point
Usamos la forma -ing :
• como un sustantivo. Swimming is a good form of exercise.
• después de los verbos siguientes: like, dislike, love, hate, enjoy, prefer (para expresar una preferencia general) y después de start, begin, finish, stop , etc. I like cooking a lot.
• after the verb go when we talk about activities. We often go fishing at weekends.
to-infinitive/infinitive without to
Usamos el to-infinitive :
• para expresar propósito. She bought flour to make a cake.
• después de los verbos siguientes: advise, expect, hope, offer, plan, promise, refuse, want , etc. She advised me to exercise more.
Usamos el infinitivo sin to :
• después de los modal verbs ( can, may, should , etc.). You mustn't eat junk food.
• después de los verbos let y make . Sometimes, advertising makes us buy junk food. Let the chef decide what we should have.
