

Adjectives replacing the word very

1. The play was a  failure.
2. She's still too  to speak about the tragedy.
3. He was very weak. His  hands were shaking.
4.  countries have a responsibility to promote fairer world trade.
5. They spent so much time in the heavy rain that they were  to the skin/bone.
6. She opened her arms wide in an  gesture of welcome.
7. Sarah's friends were especially  for her to write the book.
8. Some farmers believe that these  winter storms we're having portend a blazing hot summer ahead. *portend – zwiastować, wróżyć
9. Before leaving for college, I got some  advice from my older brother about living alone.
10. I'm so  at her leaving, I don't even want to think about it.