Louvre Museum

The Louvre or the Louvre Museum is the world's largest art museum in Paris, France. It's about 3 kilometer from the Eiffel Tower. It was the most-visited art museum in 2017.

It was first built in 12th century as a fortress, but later in 16th century it became a royal palace.

The museum first opened in 1973.

There are more than 380 000 objects and 35 000 works of art from pre-history to the 21st century in eight departments of the museum. You can see lots of different collections of antiquities such as ancient papyrus scrolls, tools, clothing items or sculptures, paintings, drawings and prints from all over the world. Many of them were the masterpieces by famous artists of all time such as The Mona Lisa by Leonardo da Vinci.

One of the most attractive part of the museum is the Grand Pyramid. It is a glass and mental pyramid and serves as the main entrance to the museum. The Pyramid is one of the most famous landmarks of the city.

A normal entrance ticket for adults is €15.00, extra €2 if want to skip the line. People under 18 get in free. However, if you want to have a tour guide it might cost you between €39 and €66.
