#1: New Zealand? We're mostly famous for..... We have wonderful walks, wonderful national parks and absolute amazing different types of terrain that you can all see in a very small and wonderful.....

#2: I love New Zealand because it's so in its landscape. Right from the top of the north island you'll find beaches and inlets and lakes and and hot..... and then you hit down over the strait to the island called the island and it's just covered in and lakes and you can pretty mucharound it for hours between the longest stretch between the next..... So everyone's really and that's not far to... and it doesn't take a long time to be.....

#3: New Zealand is a laidbackcountry. We like to enjoy life and don't take anything too.....
