

The image below shows a closeup view of glacial striations and chatter marks in Switzerland. The striations are created as the glacier moves across the bedrock and the rock that is entrained in the glacier grinds into the bedrock like sandpaper.

Observe the glacial striations. What direction was the glacier moving when it produced them?

Choose one:

☐ A.

☐ B.

☐ C.

☐ D.

