Another x Other x Others

Inglês MARIO BRANDÃO

➤ THE OTHER can be an adjective, so it can be singular or plural:

I saw her the other day.
I prefer the other books.

As a pronoun, it is singular:

Close one eye, and look at this with the other.

➤ OTHERS / THE OTHERS are pronouns, that is why they can be plural:

I like some of his films, but I don't like others.
I like his early films, but I don't like the others.

➤ ANOTHER is usually singular, but with a number after it, it becomes plural:

Bring me another beer, please.
Bring me another two beers, please.

➤ However, OTHER is always a plural adjective (it is a typical mistake to use it as singular):

Other children don't play videogames all day, Johnny!
