Lee works as a marketing manager in an international company which creates assistive devices. Just before the Halloween there will be an International Invention & Trade Expo 2021, which will start on the 28th of October, and will be held for a couple of days.

As Lee wants to get some Halloween presents for his cousins, he is determined to stay there for two more days after the event. However, he needs to arrive one day before because of the press conference which is organized on the eve.

Unfortunately, there are no direct flights on the required date. Thus, Lee will have to catch a shuttle from his hometown to the John F. Kennedy International Airport. Whether he arrives early for the flight, he can grab a sandwich at the airport terminal before boarding.

It will take him 6 hours 50 minutes to get to the Heathrow Airport. Thus, he can depart at 5:50 o'clock, right at dawn and arrive at the airport on same day!

He will have to take a taxi directly to the conference hall on arrival. Ah, and don't forget to remind Lee to set his watch to the local time according to the difference in 5 hours.

As a visitor for certain business activity but not working, Lee doesn't need any entry permit. So, all the belongings are packed and Lee is ready to hit the road. Oh, and don't forget to book a cheap accommodation to stay at.
