

There is • There are

EXPRESSING QUANTITY - AFFIRMATIVE SENTENCES

We use "there is/there are" to refer to the existence or presence of someone or something:

There's a letter for Julia.

There are several people in line.

We use 'there is' for singular:

There is

There's only one necklace.

We use 'there are' for plural:

There are

There are two necklaces

⌚ Read the sentences and complete them using there is / there are.

I heard a knock, I think somebody at the door.

several people who don't know about the show!

only one right way to make coffee.

Please hurry! a spider in my room!

a lot of things you can do in New York city.

a cool place for us to eat in the city.

40 people in this class. That's a lot.

Can you check if milk left in the fridge.

Are you sure a place for us there?

I'm at the mall and a lot of things that you'd love.