We (1) _____ already eaten supper when the stranger turned up on our doorstep asking (2) _____ food. He looked as (3) _____ he was starving so we gave him some. (4) _____ he was eating, he said his name (5) _____ John and that he had no home and the few things he owned had (6) _____ stolen a week (7) _____. He seemed to be scared (8) _____ something, but we weren't sure (9) _____ it was. Every few minutes he looked (10) _____ the door and if anyone made a noise, he jumped out of his chair.

Then he asked if he (11) _____ stay the night. We were a bit worried, because he might be a criminal or something. However, he seemed genuinely frightened and we (12) _____ sorry for him. It was pouring (13) _____ rain outside so we finally agreed and said he was welcome to use our garage. We gave (14) _____ a torch and a sleeping bag, which he happily accepted. We said goodnight to him and (15) _____ to bed. By the (16) _____ we woke up next morning, we could smell breakfast (17) _____ cooked in the kitchen. John looked really happy and said he was doing this to (18) _____ thank you to us.

As he was leaving we offered him some money to help him on his way, but he (19) _____ to take it. When we unrolled the sleeping bag he had been using, we found an envelope there. Inside there was £1000 in cash and a note explaining that John was, in fact, quite (20) _____ wealthy man and he was (21) _____ out some experiments to find out (22) _____ kind people are. Apparently we were (23) _____ only people willing to help him all week!
