Reporter Ted Banks talked to Mr. Sam Stuart, a survivor of yesterday's plane crash.

Banks: When you (realize) something was wrong?

Stuart: Everything seemed fine until I saw the fire.

Banks: Where (be) the fire?

Stuart: On the right side of the plane, next to one of the engines.

Banks: What you (do) when you saw the fire?

Stuart: I was reading a magazine. Then I just looked out the window and saw it.

Banks: they (know) the cause of the fire?

Stuart: No, I don't think so. Not yet.

Banks: you ever (be) in a plane crash before?

Stuart: No, luckily I never have. And I hope this is the last time.

Banks: you (fly) again soon?

Stuart: Oh, yes, I am. I have to fly every month for work.
