

Listen to the audio and complete the missing words or phrases.

The greatest vacation ever

Anna: "Do you need a vacation?" Wow. That was the best vacation I have ever had ... in my head. A beach is much better than here. I need a vacation!

Professor Bot: I hear you, Anna. I need a vacation too but not at the beach. Sand is not good for robots! When we compare things, we use special forms of adjectives. "_____" is a comparative adjective. That is used to compare two things. "_____" is a superlative adjective. It shows that one thing has more of ...something than ALL of the others. Try to find more of these adjectives. Look for ER or EST at the end.

Dan: NO! You can't get your money back. I don't care that it was your _____ vacation ever!

Dan: Hello! Have a seat! Welcome to the World's Best Vacation Travel Agency!

Anna: Thank you and congratulations!

Dan: For what?

Anna: _____.

Dan: Right ... thanks.

Dan: Trudy, hold my calls. I am going to sell our _____.

Trudy: Sure thing, Boss.

Dan: The Mountain Getaway is good for you. It's a little _____. But think of it -- you, on top of a mountain for seven days!

Anna: I'm afraid of high places.

Dan: Of course you are. That's why our Deep Sea Adventure is better for you! It is _____ than the Mountain Getaway. Just you and the animals of the sea!

Anna: Shark! Shark!

Dan: No, there are no sharks in your dream vacation! You need the Safari Camp Out! It is our _____ vacation. But I think it's the best one for you. During the day, you'll see elephants, giraffes and lions. At night, you'll sleep out under the stars.

Anna: Look, I think this was a bad idea.

Listen to the audio and complete the missing words or phrases.

Dan: Sure, you can leave. But then you won't see the _____ vacation technology.

Professor Bot: Did you find all of those adjectives? Dan started with good - The mountain getaway; then he moved to better - The Deep Sea Adventure. And finally, he said the Safari Campout was the best vacation for Anna!

Anna: Exactly what is the " _____ " ... exactly?

Dan: I'm happy you asked. Meet the Travel Max 2000!

Anna: Wow.

Dan: So, tell me, how do you like to travel?

Anna: Well, I like travel that is _____ and romantic but still exciting.

Dan: Great. Tell me more.

Anna: I like traveling in a plane but not in a helicopter! Planes are a little _____ but helicopters are _____.! My favorite way of traveling is by train. Ships can be the _____.! Have you seen the movie "Titanic"? Oh, and no horses. But I will ride a camel. And no bike tours. Biking is THE _____ AND _____ romantic way to travel. Excuse me, but I think the Travel Max 2000 is on fire.

Dan: Yes, we're both on fire! We really want to sell you the most ex-, I mean, best vacation ever!

Anna: No, I mean it's really on fire!

Dan: You killed it. You killed the Travel Max 2000!

Anna: I am so sorry! Can I help you fix it?

Dan: No, no!

Anna: Don't cry. I know what you need -- a vacation!

Anna: The Safari Campout looks fun. It is _____. But I think you deserve it.

Dan: No, no!

Professor Bot: Oh Anna. This is the _____ lesson yet! There were a lot of comparatives and superlatives but ... I can't breathe. Just go to the website to learn the best ways to use them!