subjects and objects

The subject usually comes before the verb. The subject does the action.

The object usually comes after the verb and receives the action.

1 Read, circle and underline.

Read the language focus box and then circle the subject and underline the object in the sentences below. The first one has been done for you.

1 In 1903, Edward Binney invented crayons.

2 In 1904, Thomas Sullivan invented the tea bag.

3 In 1919, Charles Strite invented the pop-up toaster.

4 In 1980, Tim Berners-Lee invented the World Wide Web.

language focus

the passive

To form the passive, we put the object in the position of the subject. We use the passive when we want to focus on what happens more than on the person who makes it happen. Sometimes the person is left out of the passive sentence. It is usually used for news reports, signs and scientific descriptions.

The boy wrote the story. (The boy is more important.)

The story was written by the boy. (The story is more important.)

He stuck the straw on the balloon. (The person is important.)

The straw was stuck on the balloon. (The person is not important.)

We form the passive with the verb be (is/was, are/were) and the past participle of the verb.
