

One. What colour is Kathy's bedroom now?

Kathy: Come and look at my bedroom. I've painted it.

Man: What colour this time, Kathy? Green?

Kathy: I decided to paint it blue.

Man: Oh well, that's nicer than before. I hated those pink walls.

Two. Which platform does the woman's train leave from?

Woman: Which is the platform for the train to London?

Man: The fast train leaves from platform six at seven o'clock. Woman: I want to go to Rugby - does it stop there?

Man: You need the slow train from platform two at seven ten.

Three. How is Susan going to get to the airport?

Man: How are you going to go to the airport on Tuesday, Susan?

Susan: I'm going to take the coach. I can get off just outside the airport.

A taxi's too expensive.

Man: There's a train you can get. It's very fast.

Susan: That's only at the weekends.

Four. Which is Anna's family?

Man: Tell me about your family, Anna.

Anna: Well, my father's tall with dark hair and my mother's the opposite.

She's shorter and blonde. Then there's my brother.

Man: Is he older than you?

Anna: He's five years younger.

Five. When is Kim's birthday party?

Man: Are you going to Kim's birthday party? She'll be sixteen in June. Woman: Oh, yes. It's on the eleventh, isn't it?

Man: That's right. It'll be quite a big party - about thirty people, I think. Woman: OK. I'll see you there.
