Air Pollution

Air is important as many living things need them to survive. Air pollution is perhaps the most common and the most dangerous type of pollution. It involves the release of chemicals into the environment. The chemicals are harmful as they then become the part of the air around us that all the living things take in. Air pollution comes from a wide variety of sources, and they are vehicle or manufacturing exhaust, forest fires, volcanic eruptions, dry soil erosion, and other natural sources, and building construction or demolition. Possible effects are smog, acid rain, crop depletion from lack of oxygen, and asthma. Global warming is also related to increased air pollution.

Dear Melissa,

I hope you are well. Guess what! I am having a big party next week at my house and I am inviting all my close friends. The theme of the party is going to be Harry Potter, so all must dress accordingly. You would make a great witch! I need to let everyone known by Wednesday since I am throwing the party next Saturday. Sam is going to decorate the house and my mother is going to bake a cake and make lots of food. There is going to be music and dancing as well. Jhon is going to be the DJ. You can stay over at my house.

It's going to be great! I hope to see you then.

Love,

Sarah.
