Are tablets good for children?

Tablets in classroom

In some schools, children use tablets in the classroom. They read, write and listen with them.

'Tablets are important' say the children. 'They help us learn.

'But I like books!' says their teacher.

Tablets in classroom

Many children play games on their tablets. 'We like games,' say the children. 'They're fun. But we only play at the weekend!
'Tablets aren't good for children,' says one mum. 'Children need to play outside more.

Tablets for music

Tablets are good for music, too. 'We bring our tablets to music lessons,' says Louisa.
'We listen to music and we learn new songs!'

Tablets for talking

You can also talk to people with a tablet. 'We talk to Grandma and Grandpa on Friday, says Paul. 'They live in Australia. There's a camera on the tablet, so we can see Grandma and Grandpa, too!'
