Dynamic and stative meanings

| Dynamic meanings: "actions"   | Stative meanings: "states"  |
|---|---|
| Most verbs have dynamic meanings. They describe actions: something "happens." You can use them with simple forms to talk about habits or routines, or progressive forms to talk about activities in progress. | Some verbs connected with knowledge, emotion, or possession have stative meanings. They describe states: nothing "happens." You cannot use them with progressive forms. |
| I recycle all paper, plastic, and bottles.We're destroying the planet.The telephone is ringing.   | I want a fairer system.I don't feel strongly about politics.  |
| Some verbs can have both dynamic and stative meanings:Rosie is having a great time at college. (have = dynamic meaning)Brian has a beautiful house. (have = stative meaning)                          |   |
