Grammar Revision: Conditionals

FIRST CONDITIONAL

If + present simple, WILL + infinitive	Will + infinitive if + present simple
- For present or future situations that are possible and probable. - For promises or to give warnings.

1. Fill in the blanks with the correct form of the verb in brackets.

a) If you drink lemon tea, your sore throat _____ (feel) better.

b) If he _____ (not study) hard, he won't pass the exam.

c) If the baby _____ (touch) the heater, she will burn herself.

d) Unless we _____ (find) a baby-sitter, we'll have to stay at home.

e) I won't go out if it _____ (not stop) raining.

f) If Robert _____ (not arrive) soon, I'll leave without him.

2. Rewrite the sentences using the word in brackets without changing the meaning of the original sentence. You can do all the changes you need.

a) I'll go to the cinema tomorrow if I don't have to work late (unless)

b) I'm going to phone your parents if your behaviour does not improve. (unless)

c) He is going to fail the test unless he studies seriously. (if)

d) The rock star won't appear unless the reporters are there. (if)

Remember! There are other words/expressions that can make a conditional sentence (instead of using IF) → as soon as / when / as long as / by the time / provided that / only if

As soon as I have enough money, I will buy you the sneakers.
When we arrive at the airport, our parents will meet us.
You won't be cold as long as you wear enough warm clothes.
By the time Dad gets home, it will be too late to go to the supermarket.
Provided that you are feeling better tomorrow, we will go to the beach in the morning.
Only if you're feeling well tomorrow, we will go to the beach.
