

Susanna: Hi, Mum. This is Susanna. I know you're going shopping this afternoon. Can you get something for me? I need a white T-shirt for the school tennis match tomorrow. We all have to wear white, and I haven't got one. You can get them in Davey's - that's D A V E Y s - it's a new shop in the High Street. It's not far from the car park - you can go there before you go to the supermarket. You know the cinema? Well, it's next to that. It's easy to find.

There are three sizes - small, medium and large. My old one was a small but I'm a lot bigger now, so could you buy me a large one, please?

I hope you can get it - I can't play in the match without it. It's not expensive, it only costs eight pounds ninety-nine. I'll give you the money tonight.

Thanks a lot, Mum. See you later. Bye.
