

Mark: Hello, Jack. You want to go to the sports centre one day a week, don't you? Well, I've got some information. On Monday there's golf.

Jack: Mmm. I prefer volleyball. Mark. Also. Monday's a bad day for me. Tuesday's better. Is there volleyball then?

Mark: It's basketball, but you like that, don't you?

Jack: Quite. What can you do on Wednesday?

Mark: Let's see. It was badminton, but not enough people wanted to do it so it's swimming now. That's no good for me because I hate water.

Jack: And I go to swimming at school every Tuesday. Is there anything outside? Football or hockey?

Mark: On Thursday. But they don't do hockey, I'm afraid, just football. But look, Friday is good.

Jack: Why?

Mark: You say you like volleyball. Well, that's at the sports centre then Jack: Great.

Mark: Or there's Saturday.

Jack: Swimming again?

Mark: Tennis. That's outside and you like it better than football, don't you?

Jack: Yes, but I like volleyball best.
