mountains Tour 2020 Paris route depart

The Tour de France route was unveiled in the usual pomp and ceremony in Palais des Congrès in with many an awkward-looking pro-rider in a suit and the usual “he ‘ll be working for me” quotes from some teammates.

The 2019 was of course one of the most exciting for years, in fact, for me, it was probably the one I’ve enjoyed the most since the final Lemond battles of 89. Before the launch, we had a nice little grand hors d'oeuvre to get our teeth into and what a grand depart it was: three stages based around Nice, no prolog, no time trial or in fact no team time trial and mountains, on the opening days, why, is this the Giro? And the full Tour doesn’t disappoint. If ever an organizer has listened to fans and “see what happens this summer” and designed a route accordingly, this was it.
