

Woman: Hello! Are you the farmer's son?

Boy: Yes, I am. Can I help you?

Woman: Our book says we can camp on this farm.

Is that right?

Boy: Yes, it is. Dad's not here this morning, but I can help. How many nights do you want to stay here?

Woman: Five.

Boy: ok!

[pause]

Can you see the answer? Now you listen and write.

[pause]

Boy: And what's your name, please?

Woman: We're Mr and Mrs Welcome. You spell that W-E-L-C-O-M-E.

Boy: OK ... I'll just write that on this piece of paper.

Woman: We've got our children too. There are four of us.

Boy: That's fine. Perhaps your children would like to come and see the sheep one day with me! I help my dad a lot here.

Woman: I can see that!

Boy: What colour is your tent?

Woman: It's blue with a white stripe round it. It's not very big.

Boy: ok ... You can put it in our top field. You can drive up there.

Woman: Great. We've got lots of camping things to carry, so that's good!

Boy: Do you need anything?

Woman: We've got cooking and sleeping things but have you got any bikes we can use?

We might want to go for a ride.

Boy: Yes. We can help with those. Dad will come and speak to you about that.

Woman: Thanks a lot. The countryside here is so beautiful!

Boy: And when are you going to leave?

Woman: On June 11th, sorry ... I mean June 12th.

My mistake!

Boy: That's all right. Ok ... Follow me and I'll show you where to put your tent now.

Woman: Great! Thanks!
