6. Simple, Compound, and Complex Sentences

A. Identify the different types of sentences. Write simple, compound, or complex next to them.

1. Most people like to relax and do nothing important when on holiday.

---

2. Some others like to see new places, and some like to have an adventure.

---

3. Unusual holidays are becoming more and more popular every day.

---

4. An unusual holiday is different for each and every person, but it involves unique destinations and activities.

---

5. For example, people go lionfish spearing in Belize or attend Genghis Khan warrior training in Mongolia.

---

6. My best friend loves to help animals, so she spent her summer helping rescued elephants in Elephant Nature Park, Thailand.

---

7. When she returned home, she opened an animal shelter to continue helping animals.

---

8. Travelers come from all corners of the world to volunteer at her shelter, and help with everything from walking dogs and playing with kittens to cleaning rabbit homes.

LIVEWORKSHEETS