

Grammar

Present vs. Continuous

1 Look at these sentences.

They are playing football at the moment. They play football on Saturdays.

He's studying English now. He studies English every day.

(It's 8.00 a.m.) Sally is walking to school. Sally usually walks to school.

2 Change these sentences using the words in brackets.

Example: He sometimes cooks dinner. (now) → He's cooking dinner now.

Example: He's listening to music. (every day) → He listens to music every day.

1. Linda listens to music. (now)

2. He is driving a car to town. (always)

3. They eat bread every day. (at the moment)

4. They are playing tennis. (every day)

5. We always eat ice cream. (now)

6. I am cleaning my room now. (every Sunday)

7. We are going swimming tomorrow. (sometimes)

8. She always walks to school. (at the moment)

9. He always buys food on Wednesdays. (now)

10. They are playing cards now. (every day)

3 Now read these questions.

Example: Does he cook dinner? (now) → Is he cooking dinner now?

Example: Are they listening to music? (every day) → Do they listen to music every day?