

Name: _____

ID: _____

Parts of the computer

Part A: Connect the image and the corresponding name.

Mouse

Printer

central process
unit

Monitor

Keyboard

Part B:

-Its function is to write and control the software of a computer system.

-It is the brain of the whole operation of the system, in charge of directing all the tasks carried out by the computer and executing the code of the different programs.

-Its function is to print the digital information in different formats.

-works through the movement of the user's hand, and translates it on the screen through the position of a cursor or pointer.

- is a portable tool of light weight and size, its size is approximately that of a briefcase.