CEREALS

Drag the term and drop it in the appropriate space.

Aleurone Layer Scutellum Bran

Endosperm Germ

Part of the Grain	Description
1.	The largest part of the grain that is mostly starch.
2.	The part of the grain that is the richest and it produces new growth.
3.	It attaches the embryo or germ to the grain.
4.	The thin outer layer of the grain. It is also called the pericarp.
5.	The layer that marks the end of the bran and the outer portion of the endosperm.

Which part of the grain consist of the following nutrients?

Germ Scutellum Bran Endosperm

(I) Protein, Fat, Vitamins (B Vitamins and Vitamin E), Minerals – especially iron. _____

(II) Carbohydrate (mainly starch), Protein (LBV protein), Vitamin (B Vitamins). _____

(III) Carbohydrate (cellulose), Minerals (iron, calcium, and phosphorus), Protein (LBV protein), Vitamin (Vitamin B3 niacin)). _____

(IV) Vitamin (Vitamins B1 thiamin), Protein (LBV Protein). _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS