Conversation 1 (DAVE)

- A : So Dave, _____ makes a good friend?
- B : _____, a friend is someone who is good fun to be with.
- A : Hm...fun to be with? _____?
- B : I like friends who like to go out and have fun together – go down town, go to the beach, _____, something like that.
- A : So....does that mean a friend has to like _____?
- B : No...not really, just that _____. You know, fun to be with whatever we do.

Conversation 2 (LAURA)

- A : So, _____ lots of friends?
- B : _____.
- A : _____ makes a good friend?
- B : Hah...good friend....well, a _____ you when you have a problem.
- A : Hmm..._____ that's the most important thing?
- B : Yeah, friends help each other. _____.
- A : Well, what kinds of problems does your _____?
- B : Well, _____.

Conversation 3 (STANLEY)

- A : Some people say friends are always honest with each other. _____
- B : _____. Friends need to be completely honest. One little lie and the friendship just disappears.
- A : Ah, that's pretty strong language. _____
- B : Yeah. Once, one of my good friends lied to me. _____, and I just felt completely betrayed. _____.
