A You don't really believe that, do you?
B There's nothing to be anxious about.
C Why, what's the matter?
D I didn't know you were so superstitious!
E But ... what's troubling you?

Amy: I can't believe how unlucky I am!
Tom: 1) .....
Amy: Well, it's my birthday on Friday, and I want to have a small garden party.
Tom: Good idea! 2) .....
Amy: There's a full moon on Saturday!
Tom: So? There'll be a nice atmosphere.
Amy: You don't understand! A full moon means trouble. The whole party will go wrong!
Tom: 3) .....
Amy: Yes, ask anyone and they'll tell you the same thing about the moon.
Tom: 4) ..... Let me guess ... black cats and ladders are also a problem, right?
Amy: It's not funny! This is really worrying me.
Tom: 5) ..... Everything will be alright.

Dear Jane,

I 1) ..... (know) that it's quite a while since I last wrote to you, but for the past few weeks I 2) ..... (do) so many things at the same time, that I hardly had time for anything!
3) ..... (I/tell) you that my school 4) .....(hold) a big dance next week? We 5) ..... (celebrate) the end of the school year. As I'm a member of the organising committee, I 6) .....(spend) most of my time after school trying to work out the details of the event. 7) ..... (you/have) any good ideas to give me?
What about you? What 8) ..... (you/do) lately? 9) ..... (you/still/work) at your dad's shop after school? You know what? I 10) ..... (just/have) a great idea! Why don't you come to visit me for a few days? You can come to our school dance, and then we can spend some time together.
Anyway, I have to go now. Let me know what you decide!

Love,
Mary
