My Routine

My name is Julie, and I am an English teacher. I teach English at a Middle school near my home. I teach 8th grade students. I am married and I have a daughter. Every day, I wake up at 5:30 am. I take a shower and get dressed. After I get dressed, I prepare my lunch to take to school. I usually make a sandwich and a salad. I also prepare lunch for my daughter and my husband. I wake my daughter up at 7 am and help her get ready for school. My daughter is in 3rd grade. She goes to an Elementary school. It's right in front of my school, so I drop her off and go to my work. I finish work at 4 pm.

When I finish work, I meet my daughter and we go home together. At home, I help her with her homework and cook dinner. My husband arrives home at 6 pm. We eat dinner together. After dinner we watch TV for about an hour. Then, we like to spend half an hour playing a game or doing something fun as a family. My daughter takes a quick shower and goes to bed. We read a book for a few minutes before she falls asleep. When my daughter is asleep, I spend an hour checking my student's work and preparing for my next class. After that, my husband and I go to sleep. We talk for a few minutes about our days and fall asleep. We are both tired and have to get some rest before we start everything again.
