

LIFE SCIENCE STORIES

REPTILES

alligators	sun	lizards	scales	eggs	vertebrates	warm
------------	-----	---------	--------	------	-------------	------

Reptiles are a kind of animal. Reptiles usually live in _____ places, but some live in the water. Snakes, turtles, lizards, iguanas, and _____ are some common reptiles.

Reptiles are _____, so they have backbones. Reptiles have _____. Some also have shells. Reptiles are oviparous, they lay _____. Most reptiles are carnivores. A few kinds of _____ and turtles are herbivores!

Reptiles are cold-blooded. They like the _____ because it keeps them warm. If they get too cold, they could die.

Answer the questions!

1. _____ reptiles are carnivores.
A. NO B. SOME C. MOST D. ALL
2. Which of these is a reptile?
A. SNAKE B. SALAMANDER C. BAT D. SHARK
3. What kind of body covering do reptiles have?
A. FEATHERS B. SLIME C. SCALES D. FUR
4. DEFINITION: meat eaters.
A. OMNIVORES B. HERBIVOROUS C. CARNIVOROUS D. VEGETARIAN
5. Reptiles are warm-blooded.
A. TRUE B. FALSE