

FAST FOOD

1 Watch the video about food in Britain and choose the correct answer.

Write an "X"

- What does Dan like on his fish and chips?
 - ketchup
 - salt and vinegar
 - lemon and pepper
- How did people eat fish and chips in the past?
 - on bread
 - on a plate
 - with their fingers
- Why was the customer in Glasgow unhappy with his chicken curry?
 - It was dry.
 - It wasn't spicy.
 - It wasn't tasty.
- What is a takeaway?
 - food to take home to eat
 - a mobile restaurant
 - a food delivery service
- How quickly do pizza shops in the UK often promise to deliver pizza?
 - one hour
 - half an hour
 - two days
- What is a BLT sandwich?
 - bread, lettuce and tuna
 - bacon, lettuce and tomato
 - bacon and lemon tortilla

2 Tick (✓) the sentences T (true) or F (false).

Write an "X"

- There were fish and chip shops in Britain in the 1700s.
- British travellers first discovered Indian food when they travelled to India.
- In the UK today, there are more curry restaurants than fish and chip shops.
- A popular Chinese dish in the UK is noodles with mixed vegetables.
- A sandwich is a popular lunch meal.

T F

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Extra

3 How adventurous are you with food? Do you like trying food from other countries? Why or why not?

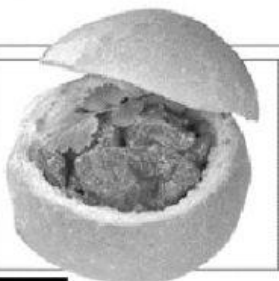

Yes! I like trying food from.....

because...

No, I don't. Because.....

4 Look at some popular types of food from around the world. Which food do you want to try? Can you match the food to the countries?

Canada • Iceland • South Africa

Bunny Chow

The name of this dish probably makes you think of Bugs Bunny. But there aren't any rabbits in bunny chow. This meal is a big piece of bread with curry inside it.

Poutine

Traditionally, poutine is a dish of chips, soft cheese and brown gravy – a type of meat salsa. Today, people add many other things to poutine.

Hákarl

Hákarl is shark meat ... old shark meat. To make hákarl, you must first put the shark under the ground for 6-12 weeks. Then, leave it to dry for several months.