GOING HOME

(From EBONY TOWER after John Fowles)

They started home from the forest. The two girls had taken a slightly different way in order to _____ (1) him a picturesquely ruined farm and to get _____ (2) blackberries for a good old-fashioned blackberry-and apple _____ (3).

The old man said that he didn't like it, but he had _____ (4) against it.

For fifteen _____ (5) or so the girls were busy gathering berries.

For part of the way home after the blackberrying he was _____ (6) beside the Mouse* ahead of _____ (7) other girl and the old man. Rather unexpectedly, she was a little shy as if she knew that he had been told something about her. She both wanted to talk, and was afraid _____ (8) revealing too much. So they began to talk about the Royal College where the girls had _____ (9) art.

The topic was not interesting and when they began to lack the words they stopped for the other couple to catch up _____ (10) them.

* Mouse (here) — the name of the girl.
