Jim Jacobs is a famous soccer player. On a practice day, he wakes up at 9 o'clock and has breakfast. Then he runs 1.5 or 2 kilometers. At half past eleven, he walks to the gym. Then he does water exercises, like walking through the pool and swimming. He eats lunch at half past one. He eats carbohydrates, protein, and vegetables. At 3 o'clock, he plays some technical exercises with other players, like shooting penalties. At a quarter to four, he plays a game with his team. He finishes his practice at 5 o'clock and goes home.
