

British people are said to be overtly polite: they use "thank you", "you're welcome" and "sorry" profusely. How can you say it differently?

1. Drag the expression to the correct column.

- | | | |
|---------------------------|--------------------------|---------------------|
| a) Anytime | e) My apologies | i) My pleasure |
| b) Excuse me | f) It's very kind of you | j) Not at all |
| c) I owe you one | g) I owe you big time | k) Pardon me |
| d) I really appreciate it | h) My bad | l) Don't mention it |

Thank you	You're welcome	I'm sorry