Mari: Hey, Jeff, what's going on?

Jeff: Oh, I'm looking at the classified _____. It looks like I have to get a _____ .

Mari: I _____ you had a job, at a _____ store or something.

Jeff: Yeah, but that's part-time. I need something _____ - _____ .

Mari: Really? But what about _____ ? What about your _____ ? How can you work full-time?

Jeff: Well, to tell you the truth, I'm probably going to _____ out of school for a _____ . I'm just not in the _____ for studying these days. I'd rather spend my time playing with my band. But my father won't _____ me if I'm not in school.

Mari: I see… Well, what kind of job do you want to get?

Jeff: Well, _____ , something involving music, like in a _____ store. But if that's not possible… I don't know, but whatever I do, it'll be better than my first job.

Mari: Oh yeah? What was that?

Jeff: Believe it or not, the _____ after I finished high school, I worked at Burger Ranch.

Mari: You? In a fast-food place? What _____ you do there?

Jeff: I was a _____flipper. You know, I made burgers all day long.

Mari: That sounds like a pretty _____ job!

Jeff: It was the worst. And I haven't gone inside a Burger Ranch since I quit that job.

Nancy: Hi, what's so _____?

Jeff: Do you remember my job at the Burger Ranch?

Nancy: Oh yeah. That was _____awful. But actually, it doesn't sound so bad to me right now.

Mari: Why, Nancy? What's wrong?

Nancy: Oh, I'm just really, really tired. I'm teaching four different _____this term and two of them are really large. Sometimes I think I've been teaching too long.

Mari: How long have you been teaching?

Nancy: Twelve years. _____ it's time to try something else.

Mari: Like what?

Nancy: Well, I've always wanted to be a _____ . I could work at home…

Jeff: Oh, don't listen to her, Mari. She always talks this way when she's had a bad day at school. At least you have a good job, Nancy. Look at me: I'm _____, and Dad won't lend me any more money…

Nancy: Oh, stop complaining. If you're so poor, why don't you go back to the Burger Ranch?

Mari: Listen you two, stop _____. Look at me! I can't work at all because I'm an international student.

Jeff: OK, OK. I'm sorry, Nancy. Tell you what. Let's go out to dinner. I'll pay.

Nancy: But you're broke!

Jeff: All right, you pay!
